END OF A NOTED DIVINE.

Sudden Summons of Bishop John A. Watterson of Columbus.

FOUND SITTING IN A CHAIR.

Brief Sketch of the Illustrious Life of the Deceased in Church Work. The Arrangements for Funeral Services.

Columbus, O., April 17.—Rt. Rev. John Ambrose Watterson, bishop of the diocese of Columbus, died suddenly at his residence.

He had been in ill health for some time, but his death was unexpected. The end came suddenly while the bishop was sitting in a chair in his bedroom at 5:25 a. m. The exact cause of his death has not as yet been determined. Dr. J. J. Magruder, the bishop's physician, states that it was probably caused by paralysis of the heart.

The tolling of the bell of St. Joseph's cathedral was the first announcement that the bishop had passed to his reward. The news of the bishop's death came as a shock to priest and layman, Catholic and Protestant.

One of the first to call to express regret at the bishop's death was Dr. Washington Gladden.

Bishop Watterson returned home from Washington Saturday in apparently good health, but while away he had a severe fainting spell, and was quartered at the Ebbitt House for two days. He attended to his customary duties Saturday, and in the evening he was quite fatigued. Sunday morning he appeared to be much refreshed and, assisted at the 8:30 mass. His brother, Mr. A. V. D. R. Watterson, the well known Pittsburg attorney, was with him during the morning, arranging matters for the proposed foreign tour.

The two brothers intended sailing for Europe May 3, and the bishop contemplated leaving Columbus next Sunday. Sunday afternoon was the time fixed for confirmation at St. Mary's church, on South Third street, and notwithstanding his enfeebled condition the bishop determined to administer the sacrament. He carried out his intentions and for nearly two hours he assisted in the services, and late in the afternoon he confirmed a class of 111 children and adults. Ever since his elevation to the bishopric, Bishop Watterson has made it a point to lecture to the children on confirmation day, and warn them against the evils of intemperance. For the first time Sunday he was unequal to the task, and after administering the sacrament and giving a few words of advice, he returned to his residence. Sunday evening he took a drive and returned home at an early hour. He went to his bed chamber unobserved, and not until Monday morning was it known that he spent the night in a chair in his bed room.

After giving him a drink of water Mrs. Curry, the housekeeper, noticed the bishop breathed hard. She notified Father Charles Watterson.

The only ones present at the death were Fathers Watterson and Kessler, Mrs. Curry and Miss Wise.

Sketch of His Life.
Deceased was born May 27, 1844, in Blairsville, Pa. He was graduated in 1865. He was appointed bishop of the diocese of Columbus and consecrated Aug. 8, 1880.

President McKinley was his friend, and he it was who presided at the famous banquet given in honor of the bishop at which no wine was allowed. On the question of temperance the bishop took a firm stand, and on this question alone he attained a national reputation. His famous edict of 1893 created a furore at the time.

The deceased has but three brothers now living. They are Theodore of this city, A. V. D. R. of Pittsburg and James Watterson of St. Louis. Editor Henry Watterson of Louisville is his cousin.

It is thought that the funeral will be held Thursday.

Archbishop Elder of Cincinnati will have charge of the arrangements, as he presides over the archdiocese. Bishop Horstman of Cleveland will in all probability assist him. In addition to these it is expected that a number of other archbishops and bishops will attend, also Monsignor Martinelli, the apostolic delegate.

According to present arrangements the remains will be interred in Mt. Calvary cemetery, in a lot selected by the bishop.

His predecessor, Rt. Rev. Sylvester H. Rosecrans, the first bishop of Columbus, who died Oct. 21, 1878, was buried in a crypt in the basement of St. Joseph's cathedral, and this may also be done with the remains of Bishop Watterson.

It will be incumbent upon Archbishop Elder to appoint an administrator for the diocese, and Vicar General Rev. F. X. Specht of St. Mary's church will in all probability receive the honor.

It will be necessary to call a meeting of the priests of the diocese at once to arrange for a successor to the dead bishop. While the pope has the appointing power, it is customary to respect the wishes of the priests who live in a diocese where a bishop is to be appointed. At this meeting, which is to be held in Columbus, the priests will agree upon two of their number, whose names will be sent to the pope, and from these two names a selection will be made. Until this is done the administrator will have charge of the affairs of the diocese.

APARTMENT HOUSE BURNED.

Narrow Escape of Occupants of Fashionable Flats in London.

London, April 17.—The British metropolis narrowly escaped a calamity, which might have rivalled the horrors of the Windsor hotel in New York city.

Hyde Park Court, Albert Gate, one of the finest and most fashionable blocks of residential flats, overlooking the famous Rotten Row, caught fire.

The building, which is 11 stories high, was built by the notorious Jabez Spencer Balfour, the former member of parliament, who was responsible for the collapse of the building association and other companies by which thousands of people were ruined, and who is now undergoing a sentence of 14 years of penal servitude as a result of his conviction on charges of fraud.

It practically adjoins the house occupied by Sir Herbert Naylor-Leyland Bart, Liberal member of parliament for the Southport division of Lancashire, whose wife was Miss Jennie Chamberlain of Cleveland, O.

The fire broke out in the lower part of the building and spread up the elevator shaft with great rapidity. The flames involved the upper stories before their occupants were aware of the danger. When the alarm was raised the affrighted servants dropped from the top windows to a veranda on the ninth story. The residents of the lower stories streamed out of the building carrying what they could of their belongings.

It is considered lucky that the fire occurred in daylight, as otherwise it would have resulted in a loss of life. All the floors were supposed to be fire-proof.

Porter May Resign.

Washington, April 17.—A story to the effect that the resignation of John Addison Porter, secretary to the president, which is now in the hands of Mr. McKinley, to take effect at the latter's convenience, is officially denied at the White House. While the resignation has not been tendered, it would surprise no one here if Mr. Porter should retire from his post at this time. He broke down under the strain of the arduous duties.

Election Riots.

Madrid, April 17.—During election riots at Bilbao 26 persons were wounded. Popular feeling runs high in Valencia and the surrounding districts. There was a serious affair in the town of Portora, province of Tarragona, where the official candidate being beaten the municipal officials fired guns at the crowd, injuring a number of persons.

Officers Elected.

Chicago, April 17.—The annual conference of the Swedish Episcopal ministerial delegates was brought to a close with the election of the following officers: President, Rev. Herman Lindskog, Chicago; secretary, J. W. Alfvigren, St. Paul; treasurer and financial secretary, Rev. Eric Forsberg, Minneapolis.

Lima Bank Resumes.

Lima, O., April 17.—The Bank of Lima began business as the successor of the American National bank, which last winter had a mysterious robbery of its safe of $18,000, without the use of drill or dynamite. The loss was made up by assessment on the stockholders.

Attempted the Ameer's Life.

St. Petersburg, April 17.—An Afghan has been arrested on Russian territory, to which he had fled after making an attempt upon the life of the ameer of Afghanistan with a revolver. The bullet missed the ameer, but wounded an Afghan general standing near.

Death of Hans Balatka.

Chicago, April 17.—Hans Balatka, one of the pioneers of music in the west, died here of heart failure. He had been sick for two years, but death came suddenly. Balatka was born in Hoffnangsthal, Austria. He came to America in 1848 and founded the famous Milwaukee Musical society.

PAIR OF FAIR WIDOWS

May Prove to Be the Star Witnesses in Canton Murder Case.

RIVALS OF MURDERED MAN.

Interest Centers in the Prospects of the Defendant and Mrs. Althouse Taking the Stand to Testify About the Tragedy.

Canton, April 17.—The third week of the trial of Mrs. Anna E. George for murdering George D. Saxton, brother of Mrs. McKinley, promises to attract larger crowds even than those of last week.

As many of the corroborative witnesses of the state will not be called, it is expected that the prosecution will conclude its examination of witnesses at once, and then the defense begins with a list of witnesses that will continue the case through next week.

The testimony so far has been a recital of the tragedy of Oct. 7, 1898, when George D. Saxton, a wealthy bachelor was shot as he was entering the residence of Mrs. Althouse for an evening call. Saxton's former relations with Mrs. George have been brought out on the theory that he had quit his attentions to Mrs. George after forming an attachment for Mrs. Althouse and that the jealousy of the defendant was the cause of the murder.

The two star witnesses for the morbid curiosity of the crowds at the court house are yet to be heard, and they are the two widows in the case—Mrs. Althouse and Mrs. George.

The state has been wanting Mrs. Althouse, but she has been in hiding and could not be found. It is claimed that the defense will never let up till Mrs. Althouse is brought into court. On the fatal night when Saxton rode to her house on his bicycle, Mrs. Althouse was not at home, and it is said that Saxton was called to the scene of his death by a decoy letter.

So far as public curiosity goes, there is more interest taken in the anticipated appearance of Mrs. Althouse than in Mrs. George taking the witness stand in her own defense.

The defense has not outlined its theory or chain of evidence; but it is generally expected that there are several surprises in store for this week, especially if the examination extends into all the alleged wrongs Mrs. George claims to have suffered after deserting her husband for Saxton. Much interest is taken in the appearance of Mayor Rice to testify regarding the story of Police Sergeant Hesler, who said the mayor told him where to find the revolver.

Although Mrs. George has been in jail over six months, she is passing through the ordeal with composure.

The court ruled out all testimony previously offered tending to show that Mayor Rice had been counsel for Mrs. George.

The revolver was offered and accepted in evidence. The threatening letter, identified by Postoffice Clerk Barr, was offered and ruled out for the present by the court on the ground that it had not been shown that the accused put it into circulation or gave it to any one.

Uriah Henry, who started out with Policeman Hasler, was allowed to say that he left the policeman near where the revolver was found.

Mrs. McAllister was recalled to tell why Saxton did not pay Mrs. George's board after 1897, as he had until then, according to what Mrs. George had told the witness. The testimony was excluded.

Miss August Susky, a milliner, who lives near the scene of the tragedy, testified to having been in a position where no one could have left the Althouse steps except to the south, without being seen by the witness.

In the re-direct examination Miss Susky said that standing on the opposite side of the street from the steps of the Althouse residence she could and did recognize men. Her sister, Louisa Susky, substantiated her testimony in nearly every detail.

The hearing of Mrs. George was resumed with former Sergeant Hasler, who found the gun and who was introduced Saturday on the stand. He was rigidly cross-examined by Mr. Welty. He again denied that he had sought to have a reward offered for the finding of the gun.

WRITTEN STATEMENT OF Expert Accountant in Quay Trial Is Barred Out.

Philadelphia, April 17.—The second week of the trial of ex-Senator Quay on the charge of conspiracy began with the commonwealth's expert accountant, Meyer Goldsmith, on the stand.

The first question put to Mr. Goldsmith was relative to his identification of a paper showing the results of his examination of the bank's books. These, he said, were correct. District Attorney Rothermel offered the paper in evidence, but was met by strenuous objections from Mr. Shields for the defense.

Judge Biddle sustained the objection, saying that such a paper takes the same position as the deposition of a witness, and can not be admitted on the same rule of procedure that excludes a deposition.

The effect of this decision is to require the physical examination of all the entries in every book. It will undoubtedly add some days to the length of the trial.

The district attorney asked the witness how many semi-annual settlements for call loan borrowers the books showed. Expert Goldsmith testified that during the period from April 30, 1896, to Oct. 31, 1896, the commonwealth's deposit in the People's bank ranged from $450,000 to $615,000. The aggregate of call loans to Senator Quay during that period was $172,731.15. Stock was purchased for Senator Quay to the extent of $152,066.90.

During the six months the interest paid on the state deposit was $2,411.11. Senator Quay did not pay, and was not charged with the interest in his loans. During the six months ending April 30, 1895, the state deposit varied from $400,000 to $625,000.

Senator Quay was loaned $14,929.48. His transactions in stock during 1894 and 1895 were included in this period, purchases for his account aggregating $500,809.06 and sales credited being $460,620.20, leaving $40,188.86, to which was added $84,409.62 for purchases during the period under discussion. No payment of interest by Senator Quay on these transactions is shown by the books. The payment of interest on the state deposit during the period is shown to be $1,317.50.

No Quorum.

Harrisburg, April 17.—The seventy-seventh ballot for United States senator resulted: Quay (R.), 36; Jenks (D.), 30; Wells (R.), 8. No quorum.

Campbell Must Pay.

Cincinnati, April 17.—Judge Dempsey, in superior court, decided against T. C. Campbell in the suit involving $1,700 alleged to have been paid to Campbell as attorney for Representative John C. Otis, to induce him to vote for Senator Hanna, a year ago last January. When the bribery story was made public it will be remembered Colonel Campbell said that he had $1,700, which Henry Harrison Boyce had paid him as part price for a vote for Hanna. Campbell stated that Boyce could have his money on demand. George H. Barber, to whom Boyce is indebted, brought suit and garnished the money in Campbell's hands. Campbell sought to evade the payment in court, after which Barber's right to it may be determined.

Michigan Law Invalid.

Washington, April 17.—In the United States supreme court an opinion was handed down by Justice Peckham pronouncing invalid a portion of the state law of Michigan regulating the sale of 1,000-mile railroad tickets. The part of the law affected is that providing that these line tickets shall be good for two years and shall be sold at a reduced rate. Justice Peckham said the provision was not the exercise of a power to fix maximum rates, and not a fair regulation of the railroads, but an improper interference, the legislature having no right to discriminate, as was done in this act.

Shipbuilding Combine.

Chicago, April 17.—The final meeting for the formation of the American Shipbuilding company, comprising most of the lake shipyards, will be held in New York on Thursday. Arrangements for the incorporation of the combine have been completed, and the New York meeting will be for the purpose of putting into shape the agreements reached. Every shipyard on the lakes, with the exception of one at Bay City, Mich., and one at Toledo, will be taken into the combination, headquarters of which will be at Cleveland or Chicago.

The Badger to Be Repaired.

San Francisco, April 17.—The United States steamer Badger has gone to the Union Iron works for repairs, there being no room for her at Mare Island. The work will be rushed so she can sail for Apia with the Samoan commission on April 25.

A Double Tragedy.

Mannington, W. Va., April 17.—L. C. Matthews, while temporarily deranged, killed his 2-year-old daughter with a razor, then committed suicide.

AN ALLY OF FILIPINOS

Is the Unseen Foe in the Form of a Most Deadly Pestilence.

A HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN.

Will Be Needed to Pacify the Natives of the Islands in the Orient According to General Lawton's Late Estimate.

Hongkong, April 17.—"We are weak and you are strong," said Dr. Galliano Apacible, the head of the Filipino junta here, "but we have an ally and you have none."

"We have 70,000 stands of arms and 30,000 troops in the field and sufficient material to make cartridges to supply our troops for four years to come."

"Our ally is the climate of the Philippines. Your bullets can not kill one of our men when disease will kill 20 of yours, once you begin your advance into the interior. We will harass your advance at the same time that we welcome it."

"We can not fight pitched battles with you, and we do not need to. We shall be here today and there tomorrow, attacking then flying. You can no more catch us or conquer us than you can the wind."

Lawton's Views.

Manilla, April 17.—Major General Lawton, at Paite, authorized a correspondent to make this statement: "The present prospect is that 100,000 troops will be necessary to pacify the Philippine islands." General Lawton's expedition has been ordered to Manilla and will return there immediately. All the territory he captured will be evacuated and all the launches he seized will be restored to their original owners—that is to say they will be given back to the persons from whom Aginaldo's soldiers took them.

The Grant Is Due.

Arrest of German Planter.

London, April 17.—The parliamentary secretary of the foreign office Rt. Hon. William St. John Broderick, replying in the house of commons to Mr. Michael Davitt, said the manager of the German plantation near Apia was arrested by the senior British naval officer on sworn evidence that he was seen directing the natives who ambushed the naval landing parties. This action, Mr. Broderick added, was taken without the naval officer having an opportunity of communicating with the home government. In conclusion, Mr. Broderick said we are informed that he was handed over to the commander of the German warship Falke on the promise that he would be detained on board.

About Meat Inspection.

Berlin, April 17.—The reichstag began the consideration of the meat inspection bill with a small attendance. Surprise was expressed at the fact that the minister of the interior, Count Posadowsky-Wehner, who alone represented the government, contrary to custom, did not make an introductory speech. Herr Gerstenberger, Centrist, who opened the debate, opposed the bill on the ground that it did not meet the requirements of the case. He said the government ought not to be over-influenced by fear of reprisals, adding that if German meats could not be treated on an equal footing with foreign imports the latter should be excluded.

New York, April 17.—Major Eustace Jameson, member of parliament for West Clare and Ireland's foremost yachtsman, who will be Sir Thomas Lipton's official representative aboard the Shamrock during the races for the Americas cup next fall, is in New York on a business trip, during which he will attend to many details concerning the international contest.

P. P. JOHNSTON, Chairman.
R. Owen Cochran, Secretary.

A WORD IN SEASON.

Dr. Thomas Manley, a distinguished New York surgeon, says that he has twice, in the last four years, directed the attention of the National Association of Railway Surgeons to the antiquated methods that, in spite of enlightened protest, are still practiced in the treatment of railway injuries, by railway and other surgeons, methods that are not only out of date, but are grossly discreditable to their intelligence as members of a presumably learned profession; and he does not hesitate to declare that the hasty and indiscriminate amputation of a mangled limb, or of parts of a limb, is actually "a crime," and that the criminal ought to be held to severe account. The whole category of "classic amputations," he says, should be totally disregarded, and insists that the one guiding principle, in all circumstances of civil life, should be to spare and preserve. The medical student is no longer taught to shape his flaps as if he were a tailor working on a job, and a thoughtful, thoroughbred surgeon no longer whacks at an injured leg merely to get a little applause from the pit. "Modern surgical science and art," he says, "have so revolutionized the treatment of crushed limbs that the term amputation should be expunged from all text books on surgery and its practice severely interdicted." Improved surgical methods are now saving limbs, or important parts of limbs that under the stupid and brutal methods of the past were needlessly and irretrievably lost. The recovery may be prolonged—"months instead of weeks," he says, but with asepsis, antiseptics, patience and skill, both structure and function can be saved, and science will no longer be accused of stupid complicity with accident in the destruction of life and limb.

Doctor Manley notes with gratification the almost unanimous adoption of these views at home and abroad.

COMMENTING ON Mr. Bryan's speech at the silver dollar dinner in New York last Saturday night, and the large and enthusiastic reception accorded the speaker, the Lexington Herald sounds a note of warning to the gold bugs and other Republicans:

His reception, his speech, the applause with which it was received are added evidences that his nomination on a platform dictated by himself is certain—unless some wholly unforeseen changed conditions face the convention next year. He has bearded Croker in his den; he has defied Tammany in its stronghold. Croker must grace his triumph, or make a much more open and aggressive fight than he has yet done; the Tammany tiger must get ready to follow as meekly as the lion did Una, or be prepared for such a fight as it never made before. And it may not be amiss for some friend of the President to whisper in his ear that there is danger brewing; that he had better take heed or the storm may overwhelm those who will not listen to the protests of the people. The ostentatious arrogance of numerous trusts, the defiant insolence of Algerism, the vast expenditures favored by the administration, the personal favoritism shown incompetents by the departments of war and navy have estranged thousands and have rendered more thousands doubtful of what duty may demand.

He also finds time to do zealous and eloquent work as pastor of the Maysville, Dover and Moransburg churches."

IN reference to the Great Wallace Shows the Daily Tribune, of Webster City (Ia.) said: "But it wasn't the parade alone that won the plaudits of the people. They got the worth of their money when they entered the big tent. The Tribune is not foolish enough to make an exhibition of itself by attempting to do justice to the program. It is only a few that can be mentioned and prominently among these were the exciting contests of the Royal Roman Hippodrome."

SMALLPOX SCARE.

The Town of Washington Excited Over the Discovery of Three Cases—Many Have Been Exposed.

The citizens of Washington and vicinity are greatly worked up over the discovery of three cases of smallpox at that place.

Fifteen or twenty people, many of them children, have been sleeping in the houses with these parties and the children have been attending the colored school.

The county authorities were notified this morning, and every step taken to suppress the disease, and prevent its spread.

The schools at Washington have all been closed, and the doctors are busy vaccinating the people.

THE FEAST OF BARGAINS

in Clothing, Men's and Boys' Shoes and Men's Furnishings, set before the people, through Hechinger's retiring-from-business sale, has awakened an interest with the buying community that the conventional Clothing sales advertisement make impossible. It's a positive fact that customers from distances as far as fifty miles from Maysville are taking advantage of this sale. It is known that the stock consists of only first-class merchandise, and when considered that the reduction of prices enables the public to buy the high class goods Hechinger & Co. carry for less than ordinary goods sell elsewhere, it is no wonder that the storerooms are daily crowded. Thousands of dollars' worth of goods that were contracted for before Mr. Hechinger's conclusion to retire from business, are daily arriving. They share the same fate of those already in stock. They will be marked at prices that will make them sell.

On Wednesday our "HOPKINS"

AN ORATORICAL TREAT.

The Hon. Henry Watterson's Lecture on Lincoln—Hear Him at the Opera House Friday Night.

[Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.]

Hon. Henry Watterson's lecture at the Pike Opera House on Lincoln was one of the rarest literary and oratorical treats the Cincinnati public has had in a long while. Mr. Watterson is always eloquent. He is even eloquent in his style of telling stories—and those who heard him at the Pike when he recited some of the droll sayings of Lincoln appreciated the lecturer's powers of imitation in this direction. All through it are characteristics of Mr. Watterson. His individuality is strongly stamped upon the style of the masterly eulogy on Lincoln. * * Every seat in the opera house was occupied, and the Union netted a snug little sum from the entertainment. Mr. Watterson, in his pen picture of "Abe Lincoln—From the Log Cabin to the Presidency"—is in his glory, and those who heard him never listened to more eloquent words of eulogy for his fellow-being.

Lincoln, to Watterson, was one of the greatest characters history has ever produced. The history of the martyred President was more of a compliment than it was detailed facts. In beginning the lecturer touched upon the most prominent figures in the early history of the American Republic. He grouped the great men and soldiers—made Washington the noblest of them all and asked his audience in a measure the question—Where could better subordinates or marshals have been chosen? Then Mr. Watterson pictured in beautiful language the events and the men of the Revolutionary period. Col. Watterson's description of how the quaint, ungainly lawyer of Illinois entered the political arena and afterwards made himself a power was very effective.

Col. Watterson will deliver this lecture at the opera house here next Friday night. Admission 50 cents. Tickets on sale at Nelson's, beginning Wednesday morning.

THE Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal referring to Col. Baldwin's claim for services as President and General Superintendent of the M. and L. Turnpike road says that "the Hon. C. M. Clay, of Bourbon, Hanson Kennedy, of Nicholas, and others gave testimony before the commission as to the justness of the claim presented by Col. Baldwin, and it will likely be paid." Affidavits from Judge Tilton, Dr. Tilton and other gentlemen of character and business capacity supported the claim with strong detailed testimony in regard to the services rendered during the fierce two years struggle in the courts and at the gates in the county of Nicholas. The affiants declare that for his services in that county alone he is entitled to nearly one half the amount allowed at the recent meeting of the Turnpike Board.

"UNCLE" JAKE HEDGMAN, one of the oldest colored men of the county, died at his home near Murphysville Saturday and was buried on the old Curtis place Monday. He was about eighty-five years old, and was respected by all who knew him.

The Association Officials Grateful to All Who Assisted in Making the Carnival a Success.

The grand carnival is now a thing of the past and we believe that it was in every feature all that we promised the people it should be. The fact that it was a success is not due entirely to the committee in charge nor to the young men of our own department; much credit is due the young ladies of the town and community who so graciously assisted us in securing the advance sale of seats. We appreciate their efforts and feel that the association has, in them, a most substantial friend and helper. We feel very grateful to the accompanists and to all who either took part in the carnival or contributed in any way to its success.

THE INVESTIGATORS

Refuse to Investigate Bill Providing For Astoria Gas Franchise.

New York, April 17.—The Mazet investigation committee reconvened. A portion of the limited space for spectators was occupied by a delegation of women representing the Society for Political Study. At a conference of the committee held before the proceedings opened Assemblyman Hoffman offered resolutions calling for the investigation of rumors that the law firm of Tracy, Boardman & Platt of New York, by and with the assistance of other persons, by corrupt means, secured the passage through the assembly of the state of a bill known as the "Astoria gas franchise," and declaring that the real purpose of the Astoria gas franchise was to enable the Consolidated Gas company to force a consolidation of the gas interests of the city to the end that the supply of gas might be controlled, and the price of the same regulated by the so-called "consolidation."

The resolutions were defeated by a vote of 5 to 2, all the Republican members of the committee voting no.

Mr. Mazet, speaking for the resolutions, said the committee had certain work to perform, that its mode of procedure had been laid out and that the present is no time for the taking up of the extraneous matter.

San Francisco, April 17.—The United States steamer Nero is taking on coal, preparatory to her departure for Honolulu at the end of this week. The Nero has been entirely refitted and prepared for the work in which she is to engage, the exploration and survey of a route for a submarine cable from Honolulu to Manila.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

THE WALLACE CIRCUS.

This Show Will be the Attraction in Maysville Friday, May 5th.

The Wallace Circus which comes to Maysville Friday, May 5th, is said to be a show of the highest class and clean in every respect. It represents all that there is of legitimate worth in the circus business. It is in charge of men who aspire to elevate the tone and purify the atmosphere of the calling, and we believe the thousands who have attended the performances during the past seasons will certify they have succeeded. Not only is the performance up to the highest professional and artistic standard, the menagerie large and varied, and the trained animals of the best, but, it is claimed, there is not in connection with the Wallace show a single one of those discreditable and demoralizing features which have done so much to give the circus a bad name, and to discourage the true friends of that form of amusement. The managers of the Wallace show keep all their promises, advertise nothing they do not expect to give, and carefully direct their performances of anything and everything calculated to offend the most fastidious. Maysville will have a chance to judge its merits on May 5th.

LOUISVILLE TOBACCO MARKET.

Percentage of Low Grades Larger Than Usual—Mediums Show Some Improvement—The Trade Active.

[Furnished by Glover & Durrett, Louisville Tobacco Warehouse.]

Sales on our market for the week just closed amount to 2,858 hhds. with receipts for the same period 2,095 hhds. Sales on our market since January 1st amount to 62,716 hhds. Sales of the crop of 1898 on our market to this date amount to 65,009 hhds.

The offerings on our market have not embraced any especially fine tobacco and the percentage of low grades have been rather larger than usual. The market has been firm and active, including all grades, prices leaning toward outside quotations and the medium grades of leaf showing an improvement of several bids. Most of the reviews which were sold on the market last week showed a fair advance over rejection prices.

PAINT is not a cheap substitute for white lead, but a mixture of Carbonate of Lead and Zinc combined with pure Linseed Oil on such a scientific principle as to produce a Paint that will resist the action of the elements and furnish a more durable coating than is possible to attain with Paint combined by the old style of mixing by hand. Full weight, full measure; every gallon guaranteed. One gallon will cover 300 square feet two coats.
